Mrs. Charles Becktol died Wednesday morning of consumption.

M. A. Church has just completed a nice residence in the north part of town.

Farmer's report that corn is coming up nicely, notwithstanding the prevailing cold weather.

Rev. A. M. Vardeman of Mexico, Mo., will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday, morning and evening.

Only slight changes were made in the new time card of the Wabash, and at the last moment it was decided not to put on an extra Sunday train.

Eld. Browder who has been confined to his bed for several days with erysipelas of the throat, is able to be out again, and will occupy his pulpit next Sunday.

Rev. Canfield has just given his house a new coat of paint, and it has been done with artistic neatness. It looks odd with its many colors, but it shows to good advantage.

The increased business at the foundry has made it necessary to enlarge their building, and increase their facilities for turning out work. A large addition will be made to the building during the summer.

When the Bank Block burned March 14th, Mr. Baird said he would be in his new building in sixty days. The time expired yesterday, and Mr. Baird made his word good, as the bank opened for business in the new building yesterday morning.

Trains on the Wabash do not stop long at stations since the time has been shortened between St. Louis and St. Paul. Adieus and parting greetings have to be exchanged before the train arrives, or somebody will get left. There is no time for waiting under the fast schedule.

The boiler in Horace Miller's saw mill which is on the Chariton river about eleven miles southwest of Kirksville, exploded yesterday, killing Clara Eytcheson, and badly injuring Horace Miller, Jefferson Eytcheson and one of the Bell boys. Further particulars cannot be obtained.

Willmathville is to have a fine school house built during the summer, and has organized as a village district and will have a graded school. We are glad to note this improvement, as Willmathville is a wealthy district, and has for many years been without adequate school facilities.

A man, having the appearance of a farmer, was pounced upon by a couple of candidates, last Saturday, and made to undergo the ordeal of a vigorous and earnest electioneering. The man patiently listened to their little speeches and then blandly informed them that he was very sorry, but could not support either of them as he lived in Schuyler county.

The storm last Friday night was quite severe in parts of Schuyler county. North of Greentop the barn and ice house of Mr. Wayman were unroofed, and the dwelling was damaged by having a heavy timber hurled against it by the wind. At Queen City a flood of rain fell. The rise in the Chariton river, Saturday morning was seven feet.

For a time it was thought she would die, but she is now in a fair way to recover.

DIED.

DARR—Emma Darr, wife of George Darr, died at her home in Liberty township, April 29th, aged 30 years 2 months and 4 days. All that medical skill could do was done to stay the hand of death, but to no purpose. She leaves an aged mother, three sisters, two brothers, a husband and seven children to mourn her departure. She will be greatly missed in the community where the sweet influence of her christian spirit has been felt so long. The funeral discourse was preached by Rev. T. G. Rigon, from John XI—23—25.

BURTON—Henry J. Burton, near Millard, Mo., May 12th, 1890, aged 64 years, 1 month, and 19 days. He had been an invalid for several years. His suffering at times had been intense, yet he endured it patiently. His companion in life preceded him to the spiritual world but about three months, now he has gone to join her where parting will be no more. The God of all grace, comfort the hearts of the bereft sons, daughters and friends. R. FISHER.

150,000 New Farms a Year.

The census of 1880 showed that in every year since 1870 there had been opened in the United States on an average upwards of 150,000 new farms per year. This fact explained the mystery, for even to some of the manufacturers themselves it seemed a mystery as to where all the new self-binders and mowers went. To William Deering & Co., of Chicago, alone manufacture between twenty and thirty thousand complete self-binders and as many mowers every year, and with reapers and various other implements and attachments their product runs up to many thousands. Of course as they stand at the head the product of other works is smaller but in the aggregate it takes many new farms to make places for all.

What has become of Linder-ville items? X.

Conservatory of Music.

The constantly increasing patronage of the Macon Conservatory of Music has compelled the management to provide additional facilities, both in accommodations for teaching and the enlarging of its faculty, and has therefore engaged the competent and experienced instructor, Mr. O. S. Snouffer, of the Ohio Wesleyan University Conservatory, whose ability both as executant and instructor has been abundantly testified to by the leading schools and journals of this country. Mr. Snouffer's musical education has been exceptionally thorough and comprehensive. He has enjoyed the best advantages in Harmony, Counter Point, Piano, Voice and Pipe Organ—a leader of Orchestra for four years, and to the success of his work the numerous recommendations testify. His methods of instruction are founded on modern and progressive art principles, as taught by the most eminent masters and are therefore in accord with the sternest demands of art.

The people of Macon and adjoining towns will fully appreciate the efforts of the management of the Conservatory in bringing with in reach of home the advantages of the city. The gratifying results already attained by the Conservatory show that the well regulated and scientific instruction meets the demands in a manner which no school making musical instruction merely incidental can possibly afford to do.—Macon Republican.

A teacher from the conservatory will be in Kirksville two days of each week, beginning September next, and all pupils completing under his directions, the regular course of study as prescribed by the Conservatory, will be graduated from that institution. In this way our students and children can complete a regular and scientific course of instruction while remaining at home and during the period of their literary pursuits.

Unsolicited Commendation.

The following letter was recently received by Commissioner Hartford, from J. B. Merwin, one of our leading educators. It is all the more gratifying to Mr. Hartford as it came unexpectedly and without solicitation:

St. Louis, May 9, 1890.
Prof. Wm. Hartford, Kirksville.
My Dear Sir:—I read with great interest and pleasure extracts from your report in the Kirksville Journal of May 8th.

There never has been two columns of matter published in that paper that was of more interest or value to the people of Adair county than your terse, full and generous report of what the teachers are doing in that county. I hope you will keep up the fire. That sort of reading is just what we need, and just what the people need to know; and whenever there is a good opportunity to say a good, strong, honest word for the teachers who are doing good work, I see you do it generously and magnanimously.
